PRACTICAL JOKING.—The following story which is going the rounds of the French pa pers ought to serve as a useful lesson to practical jokers. Two diners who were unknown to each other were sitting at the same table in a restaurant in the place DeChateau d'Eau. One of them, joking with the mistress of the establishment, said "I must have some fresh lobster, otherwise I shall kill you." neighbor, a young man of about 25 years of age, then drew from his pocket a small revolver, which he handed to him, saying in fun, "Here is something which will enable you to accomplish your crime." The revolver was examined and returned to its owner, who had scarcely time to remark that it was loaded, when, owing to some defect in its construction, one of the chambers exploded, fortunately without injuring any one. A crowd, however, collected outside the restaurant, as though some tragedy had just occurred, the agents of the police came up, and the unfortunate delinquent was hurried off to the commissary of police to give some explanation of the affair. In the meantime an individual present, who had up to this moment kept in the background, but had a perfect knowledge of the hero of the adventure, ran to the lodging of the latter, declared to the landlord that a murder had been committed by his tenant, and that he himself was an agent of the police to make a thorough search of his rooms. The doors were accordingly thrown open to him without hesitation, and after he had completed his investigation he retired with an air of much dignity. A short time afterwards the owner returned home, and to his astonishment and disgust found every drawer and cupboard open and empty, and all his money gone. The so called agent of police had managed to get clear off with the money and goods to the extent of about 8,000 francs

COST OF EDUCATION. - A contemporary remarks that the average amount of the necessary expenses for a year at Oxford, for what is called an unattached student, is about $236; and the results "prove that a careful student can get through his Oxford career for £50 a year"—about $250. The amount of intellectual life and industry developed by the unattached system compares favorably with that common among the average members of a col-lege. $250 a year would be considered by most boys at American colleges as a small allowance for a year's expenses. Williams College, Mass., was founded in 1793. In round numbers, and including only the necessaries of life—such as board, lodging, washing and tuition-the total cost of living at this college during the school year is not more than $200. The University of Virginia, founded in 1816. under the auspices of Jefferson, in Charlottesville, a small town of Albemar'e county, Va., offers little inducements for unusual extravagance. The expenses amount to less than $300 a year. A year's residence at Cornell University, opened in 1868, costs about $300. At Yale College and Harvard, the first chartered in 1701, and the second in 1638, the cost of living is higher. At Harvard a student's yearly expenses amount on an average, to $300,

ORGANIC WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and Full Vigor Restored.

This distressing Affection—which renders life miserable and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victims of improper indulgencies. Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the natural powers are lost sooner by those falling into insproper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The system becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions weakened. Member of the Royal College of Surgery of London, Graduate of one of the most eminen Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great mervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.

Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or mar-

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Erritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symtoms of Consumption for MENTALLY .- The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Forebodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love of Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced. Thousands of persons of all ages can now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption.

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain practice, already described, a habit frequently learned from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asleep, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately.

What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in pernicious habits. Such persons must, before comtemplating

Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of another is blighted with our own. this painful disease, it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery de ters him from applying to those who, from edu cation and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, designess nodes on the shin bones and arms. deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nosatiall in, and the victim of this awful disease lecomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country victors sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRETENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the constitution, and incapable of caring, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious or injurious compounds, and instead of being re injurious compounds, and instead of being re stored to a renewal of Life, Vigor and Happiness in deepair leaves him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
